

Dolch Word Check Off List and Materials

By Paula Hubert

What's included?

- * Student Check Off List for Dolch Word Lists 1-11
On the line next to the word I either put a checkmark or I write the word they mistake it for. For example, if the word is here and they say where – I'll write where on the line. Then when I am making flashcards I can put both of those words in their take home bags. (That is why I've also included the editable flashcard template. I actually do not send home the pre-made flashcards as I rarely have students that need to practice all ten words. I test them and find the next ten words they need to practice and type those up on the template. It takes a bit longer on my part, but I find it more valuable for my students.)
- * Two different student reading lists
One list has 4 lists on the page and the other one only has one list per page.
- * Flashcards for all word lists
- * Editable flashcard template – You need Powerpoint in order to use this editable flashcard template. Or you could just print it out as is and handwrite the words your students need to practice.
- * A letter you can send home in the bag with the flashcards for the parents.
